Dear AVB Hiring Team,

I'm applying for the Email Marketing Specialist role. I've spent more than six years in email, most of it in agency settings, building programs for clients rather than for one brand. I was Lead Email Developer at Snow Companies, an agency where I built email for pharmaceutical brands including CAR-T TALK (Bristol Myers Squibb) and APOKYN, and earlier a Front-End Developer at Socius Marketing. Today I'm an Email Developer at Tamman, building email for Bank of America and Merrill programs, and I run a small email studio for agencies and business owners.

What I'd bring to your member-clients:

- Campaigns and drip journeys, end to end. Welcome, abandonment, nurture and promotional programs in Klaviyo, HubSpot, Mailchimp and Salesforce Marketing Cloud, with segmentation behind every send.
- Custom HTML/CSS email when a template won't do. I hand-code responsive email and test it across Gmail, Outlook and Apple Mail, including dark mode.
- Copy and visuals. Subject lines, body copy and graphics in Canva or Figma, plus ongoing A/B tests on subject lines, layouts and CTAs, with the results reported back.
- High volume, organized. I consistently ship about 5–10 unique campaigns a week and keep them on track in Jira, Workfront and Hive.
- Client conversations. Running my own studio means recommending email strategies to business owners and explaining what the numbers mean, which is a big part of this role.

I've attached a short sample: a welcome email I wrote, designed and coded, with a plan for the welcome, abandoned-cart and post-purchase flows behind it. More of my work is at emmanuelgmarquez.com.

Thank you for your time. I'd welcome the chance to talk about how I can help AVB's members grow through email.

Sincerely,
Emmanuel Marquez
